Taking this list the next step was to make sure you had enough money. So your starting point is you have a list of $250k in assets, that's still a lot of money, but where does that go? The IRA and 529 plans are easy. With a gift from the charity portion of the gift, you can write it off in the year it's donated. You also have a nice nest egg with the Roth IRA. With your friends contributing up to the max, you should be able to get close to the $250k mark. Investing in the Stock Market Investing money makes it feel like you're a real grown up, but it really isn't something anyone should do on their own. Unless you have a small amount of capital and an extra year or two to invest, I wouldn't advise doing it. You will quickly burn through your money and in the world of investing, putting money in is easy, but taking it out is much harder. Instead you can do a lot more for your charity if you put your efforts towards a small business, or investing in the stock market. Buying Indexed Mutual Funds If you can only spare a few hundred dollars, it may not be wise to spend a lot of money on something you know you are going to put off. For a small amount of money, a mutual fund is a great way to invest in the stock market. They invest exclusively in a certain type of stocks, and you'll never have to worry about buying and selling stocks. They're indexed so you're not going to make the profits on your money, but you get a lot of stability in the money. You should be able to find a mutual fund with a high return, and a low expense ratio. Also, they are usually well diversified, so

Q:  $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{k+it} = \frac{1}{it} \left( \frac{\log(1+\frac{1}{t})}{\frac{1}{t}} - \gamma \right)$  I've been trying to use an integral representation of a digamma function to prove the following expression involving a digamma function:  $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{k+it} = \frac{1}{it} \left( \frac{\log(1+\frac{1}{t})}{\frac{1}{t}} - \gamma \right)$  I'm stuck. Is there any way to prove it? A: You have  $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{k+it} = \text{Re} \left( \sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{(k+it)^2} \right) = \text{Re} \left( \frac{1}{t} \sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k k^{-1} e^{-ikt} \right) = \frac{1}{it} \left( \frac{\log(1-e^{-it})}{1-e^{-it}} - \gamma \right)$  A: We observe that  $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{k+it} = \sum_{k=1}^{\infty} \int_0^{\infty} x^{k+1} \, dx \, \times \int_0^{\infty} e^{-it(x+1)} \, dx$  or as a double integral,  $\sum_{k=1}^{\infty} (-1)^k \frac{1}{k+it} = \int_0^{\infty} \int_0^{\infty} (x+y)^{-1} e^{-(x+y)}$ that. But again, we're a very diverse country and the minister can do a lot of things. BEAM: What did you think of this proposal from the new climate change minister, the ACM [Adriana Hunter]? MH: On the ACM's announcement about proposals from the minister? BEAM: Yeah, did you think the whole process was a good idea, or was it too bureaucratic? MH: I think it was a good idea, but I think it would have been better for the AGU to do it. I think the way it's been done has not been as effective. I think we should have had that discussion before the ACM's initial proposals. BEAM: What do you think? MH: Uh, I don't think a representative forum can have a major impact in changing the direction of an administration. I think that's for the AGU to do and they did effectively and it seemed very collegial and I think it was a good idea. We were there, and we had a good discussion that helped. BEAM: Anything else you want to share with our readers about being a booth attendant? MH: Well, I think obviously, the main thing that we're doing and the main thing that we are selling is science and we have a huge list of activities and possibilities. I think the one thing I would say about being a booth attendant that I appreciate most is that we did get to meet some nice people. I think that's one of the good things about doing the booth. There was a man that came up to us in Toronto and he was a producer from the CBC. He said that he really enjoyed our events and he was at one of our events in Florida and he was here at the Space Show. He said that he really enjoyed the activities and we have really nice people to meet at the booth. I think that's one of the best parts of the booth, is that we get to meet other people from other countries and we get to talk to each other, and I think that's one of the important things about the booth. We meet all the time all over the world. BEAM: Thank you. MH: Thank you. [CAPTION: Courtesy of Michel Harvey, NOAA's Climate Science Center.] THANKS "BT - Astrophysics Telescope."
