There are plenty of fun off-road trails and play areas for kids, and outdoor adventures are a great way to spend time outdoors with kids. Take a look at some of the best places to play off-road outdoors with kids. Kamps, parks and trails are among our favorite places to take our kids for adventures. These locations offer plenty of opportunities for many different types of activities, like finding fossils, learning about bugs, catching water balloons, or just playing like kids do. Here are 10 great places to explore outdoors with kids. A free place for kids to have fun and play off-road on their own, there is no better place to take kids for an off-road adventure than this hidden gem of a campground in Westchester County. This campground is full of well-maintained trails for everyone to explore and enjoy. You can visit this park to walk, bike or even snowmobile to your heart's content. This 80-acre park along the Delaware River features a nice mix of trails for walkers and runners, but it's best known for its bikes. The trails are mostly flat with a few hills and are great for beginners and intermediate-level bikers. This is a great place to get in a workout while exploring the forest. This park has become a popular destination for many people because of its quiet wooded area, beautiful campsites and the many off-road trails that are available. Located along the farmlands of Lumberton, there are two main park loops that visitors are usually asked to explore. The first loop is suitable for older kids and adults, but the second loop is more challenging and suitable for younger children. Hikers and bikers love this popular park on the Orange Trail because of its scenic and challenging trails. Highlights in the park include the Chemung River Falls, the overflow pool at Chemung Lake, the long, steep Capen Woods Trail and
