

John Shimonsky

A collage of three historical newspaper front pages from January 1, 1933. The Salt Lake Tribune (top) has a large 'SALLOT STRIKE' headline. The Daily Free Press (middle) has a 'MAF' and 'Ed' headline. The Galveston Daily News (bottom) has a large 'CONGRESS TO SUPPORT FDR'S PROGRAM' headline and a 'Dillinger Gang Wounds Policemen' headline. Below the newspapers, the text 'Find yesterday's news today' is displayed in red.

John Shimonsky, 49, of Wescosville, is a former career military officer approved for a $95,000 IT director role with East Penn School District, pending background checks. His hiring stalled after a criminal record surfaced tied to a bad check used to buy a car, for which he pleaded guilty and received probation.

John Shimonsky

<https://www.mcclatchy.com/2007/11/24/east-penn-puts-hold-on-hire-red-flag-found-in-criminal-check-of-prospective-director/>